NAPW honors Jackie M. Harris, President of Klein & Co. Corporate Housing Services, Inc., as a 2014 Professional Woman of the Year. She is recognized with this prestigious distinction for her leadership in housing services. As the largest, most-recognized networking organization of women in the country, spanning virtually every industry and profession, the National Association of Professional Women (NAPW) is a powerfully vibrant networking community with over 600,000 members and nearly 300 Local Chapters.

After working as a Legal Secretary for eight years, Ms. Harris joined a relocation company where she helped people find temporary housing. Noticing a deficiency in providing excellent customer service in the temporary housing service industry, Ms. Harris opened Klein & Co. in 1995 and it took off immediately. "Klein & Co. is a full-service national temporary housing provider that can handle short-term housing needs nationwide," says Ms. Harris.

Klein & Co. is available throughout the United States and Canada. With just one phone call, Ms. Harris and her staff have the capability of handling short-term housing needs for countless clients. Each home is a comfortable and enjoyable alternative to a hotel stay. And, because Klein and Co. is not property specific, her qualified and friendly staff can place clients in the areas of their choice.

In her administrative efficiency, the depth of her knowledge of corporate practices and her dedication to company's mission, Ms. Harris is providing vital support and guidance to the people who need her most.

NAPW's mission is to provide an exclusive, highly advanced networking forum to successful women executives, professionals and entrepreneurs where they can aspire, connect and achieve. Through innovative resources, unique tools and progressive benefits, professional women interact, exchange ideas, advance their knowledge and empower each other.
